ALISON VIDOTTO

Alison Vidotto is an award winning author, professional speaker, CEO of Vidotto Group, leadership trainer and Founder and Managing Director of the Australian Charity for the Children of Vietnam.

Alison has a passion for leadership and development, both within herself and in others. Having worked through the Australian 1992 recession, the Global Financial Crisis and Brisbane’s 2011 floods, Alison has developed a real world understanding of potential hardships businesses face and the need for strategic planning to survive and grow through tough times. Having founded an international charity, Alison has a vast amount of experience dealing with the challenges faced when having to run a business across two cultures.

The lessons Alison learned during her journey she now shares through her key note speaking, leadership and business development coaching and training courses for team leaders and business owners. Alison’s experience will ensure you and your team have the lessons needed to achieve your personal and professional goals.
